DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 4-6 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Should "PVM waveform" be --PWM waveform--? Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2817

Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Higashiyama et al. or Pullen et al. (6,107,875) which are cited in the previous Office Action (see paper No. 7).

Higashiyama et al. (Figs. 1 and 2) discloses a class D amplifier comprising: an audio signal input (21); an integrator (38) read as an error amplifier circuit; a comparator (39) read as a detector circuit; a positive and negative side drivers (80 and 81) together with switches (69 and 79) read as an output stage; and an output filter seen in Figure 1; and the functions recited are inherently seen in the operation of the reference circuits.

Regarding Pullen et al., see Figures 1 and 3.
